PETITIONING THE COURT

To modify the conditions of supervision as follows:

The defendant shall reside and participate in a residential re-entry center, Turning Point of Central California, for a period of up to 120 days; said placement shall commence at the discretion of the United States Probation Officer pursuant to 18 USC 3563(b) (11). The defendant shall pay the cost of confinement as determined by the Bureau of Prisons.

Justification: On December 3, 2010, the offender was released from custody to the Eastern District of California, at which time his term of supervision commenced. The offender has maintained compliance with all aspects of supervision and has not incurred any new law violations or pending criminal matters. In addition, he has kept all substance abuse treatment appointments, which he will continue to attend until successful completion.

On February 25, 2011, the offender reported his status as homeless since he can no longer reside with his sister due to family conflict; however, he located an aunt who allowed him to stay at her residence for a week. On February 28, 2011, this officer met with the offender at which time it was determined there are no other viable housing options at this time. It was agreed that a placement in a residential re-entry center would be appropriate at this time. Such a modification would provide a stable environment and the offender can continue to attend substance abuse treatment. Further, the community residential re-entry center would provide job placement assistance and life skills needed to transition back into the community. He voluntarily accepted the proposed modification and has signed Probation Form 49a, Waiver of Hearing to Modify Conditions, which is provided for the Court's review.
